

INTERNATIONAL YOUTH CONFERENCE ON CLIMATE CHANGE

DELEGATES

Are you a young, youthful, or an expatriate passionate about global affairs? Interested in taking part in a climate change conference being held at the heart of Norway? Would you like to become more involved in the SIYC 2017? Then join us as a delegate in this interactive and unforgettable experience.

Why should you be part of SIYC?

- A chance to network.
- The opportunity to work in a stimulating environment with energetic minds.
- The chance to learn in a multinational setting.
- Leadership experience
- A real opportunity to spend a whole week in the beautiful landscapes of Sogn og Fjordane
- Cultural exchange and interactions in a fun environment
- ... just to mention but a few.

Apply: Please submit an application to committee@internationalconferences.no with the following information:

- A cover letter stating the workshop you are applying for, your personal motivation for the position. The deadline is 20th of February 2017 (application will close at midnight, Norwegian time).

Email subject must include name, surname and workshop chosen.

Delegates can also apply as a group.

Additional Information: Delegates from ages 10-17: Must be accompanied by a chaperon. Their activities shall be different from the older age groups though similarly related, giving them a platform to apply class techniques into real life situations.

- Young and older professionals 18 and above will be engaged in a mixture of speaking engagements with experts, workshop deliberations and presentation of papers and conference resolutions.
- Staff from institutions of learning, Non-Governmental Organizations and private entities are encouraged to apply. It is preferable to apply as a group, though individual admissions are welcome.
